Candidates for both non-stipended and itinerant ministry will be assessed to the same standard. What is essential is that a candidate shows that after the appropriate training period she/he will, under the grace of God, meet the high standards the church expects of its presbyters.

THE VOCATION OF A PRESBYTER

Presbyters are called to a ministry of word, sacrament and pastoral care. The presbyter serves as a pastoral minister of word and sacrament in a local Eucharistic community, and can fulfil his/her calling in and for the community. Presbyters are preachers and teachers of the faith, exercise pastoral care, and share responsibility for the ordering of the life of the congregation to the end that the world may believe and that the whole membership of the church may be renewed, strengthened and equipped for ministry.

Presbyteral ministry has traditionally been symbolised by the chalice and paten, a reminder that when Jesus broke bread and poured the cup he was feeding his community of faith. It is especially in the Eucharistic celebration that the presbyter is the visible focus of the deep and all-embracing communion between Christ and the members of his body.

It is the particular calling of the presbyter to encourage and to offer sustenance, preparing individuals for Christian life and ministry and enabling the community to faithfully live out its life.
