New Zealand Methodist ministers' and chaplains' sermons and addresses about war, 1916-1919

Compiled by the Methodist Church of New Zealand Archives, 2017

Introduction

Surprisingly, not many sermons given by Methodist ministers have been reproduced in print or gifted to the Methodist Archives from the World War I period. One explanation could be that ministers prided themselves on being able to preach freely without notes and it would only be on formal occasions a sermon or address would be written out. Consequently the main source of sermons or addresses has been The New Zealand Methodist Times newspaper.

While the following sermons have been copied from the original newspapers and can be viewed on our website. <http://www.methodist.org.nz/archives>

"Benefits of War" by Rev James T Pinfold. The New Zealand Methodist Times, 24 June 1916, page 4

"Methodism after the War. The new age" by Rev C H Laws. The New Zealand Methodist Times, 15 September 1917, page 4

"Methodism after the War. A doctrinal statement" by Rev C H Laws. The New Zealand Methodist Times, 29 September 1917, page 4

"Life's higher value. A sermon preached by Rev J Dukes at a memorial service conducted at Te Aroha and Morrinsville on Sunday, November 4, in relation to the death of Lieutenant J C Allen". The New Zealand Methodist Times, 24 November 1917, page 9

"The Church and the future. A sermon preached at the Auckland District Synod by Rev H Ranston". The New Zealand Methodist Times, 22 December 1917, page 9 and page 12

"How to end war. Outline of a sermon preached by Chaplain H T Peat, at Taranaki Street Methodist Church, Wellington, on Sunday, December 23, 1917". The New Zealand Methodist Times, 2 February 1918, page 9

"Destroy the accursed thing among you. A sermon by the Rev P I Cooke, late of the New Zealand Expeditionary Force". The New Zealand Methodist Times, 29 March 1919
